Farm Notes.

- The cern crop is the most importan because it gives not only a large proportion of grain but also supplies an abundance of fodder. The value of the fodder should never be overlooked in estimating the corn crop, but unless some provision is made for properly saving and utilizing the fodder a large portion of the value of the crop will be

-Pea meal is an important article i Canada for milch cows, and it is also excellent for growing stock. Experiments in growing peas for cattle food in this section have been few, but it is claimed that where dairy farming is a specialty peas may be made one of the crops with profit.

-It takes no more pasture, nor no more silage, hay and grain feed to grow Gettysburg Battlefield Tannery a high grade steer than it does a scrub, and at two and a half years old the high grade will weigh 1,200 to 1,400 pounds and bring $60 to $70, while at the same age a scrub will weigh say 1.000 pounds and at the best sell for only $38 to $40. Nobody can afford to throw away money that way on common cat-

-If the soil is baked, run the cultivator or harrow between the rows, and as near the plants as possible. If the land is cultivated just after a rain it will not bake as easily as when it is left un-- Dust is death to lice and the fewls should have free access to it. Sifted coal ashes are good for this purpose, but wood ashes bleach the legs of the yellow-legged breeds. -Clover roots go down into the subsoil to a great depth, appropriating substances as food which are thus brought to the surface and stored in the roots any body of the plant. When a clover sod is plowed under this plant food is thus deposited in the soil for the use of a succeeding crop, while a larger portion of the substances entering into the clover is also drawn from the air. Clover thus gains both by its roots and by its leaves, and always leaves the soil richer. -If lime is broadcasted liberally ove

the poultry yards, or grounds occupied by poultry, it will serve as an excellent proventive of roup and gapes, and when dusted freely in the poultry house at least once a week, it will drive lice -One of the most important matters in the summer is that of providing plenty of fresh water for the stock. It will not do to compel cows to drink from pools that stand in the fields, as the water must be pure if the milk is to be free from odors and impurities. -On a farm where four or five horses are kept, one of these two-wheeled road carts, costing from $15 to $25, is a good thing, and especially in muddy weather. It saves the horses strength, it save the wear of more expensive wagon and it saves the time that would be used in washing wagons. They can be bought with seats wide enough for two persons, and they are very easy to ride and do not thrive water them with a solution made by dissolving an ounce of nitrate of soda (saltpetre) in a gallon of water. They will at once begin to grow and become of a deeper tinge in food by taking it with the moisture ex isting in the soil. The manure that i cannot assist in the growth of plants un til it becomes so completely decompose

The texture of the soil, its exposure and undulation of the surface, all effect the fertility, as the decomposition of manure depends upon many circumstances of a local character. When the farmer hauls to the fields his loads of bulky manure, consisting largely of straw, stalks and other insoluble materials, he not only creates more labor in hauling, but carries to the land materials that decompose so slowly as to be almost useless to the crops that occupy the land during that season; the result being that a large portion remains in the soil, where it gradually decomposes after the crop is removed, from which the rains and melting snows carry off much of the plant food unless the land is so situated as to prevent such from happening. The greatest loss, however, occurs in the deprivation of the plant foods at the time when it is most needed, for if the manure is not well rotted before it is spread upon the land only the crops of the succeeding year can derive benefit from it.

No manure or fertilizers should be used unless with the object of securing immediate benefit. To feat the crops stances of a local character. When

No manure or fertilizers should be used unless with the object of securing immediate benefit. To feed the crops then and there, and to utilize every ounce of plant food as soon as possible, in order that the largest possible yield may be secured, should be the aim. It it is cheaper and better to retain the bulky manure in the heap, and decompose it thoroughly than to be compalled to haul that which is inert and of no assistance to the plants. Where mapelled to haul that which is mert and of no assistance to the plants. Where manure is spread early in the season, and well incorporated with the soil, the crops may utilize a fair protection for growth, but many crops grow and mature in a short period, which does not allow of sufficient time to receive the full benefit of the manure. How to prepare manure, and when to apply it, is well known to farmers, but many of them give no consideration to the fact that they often apply manure to crops that cannot possibly secure a full supply of plant food therefrom, and that when the season is very dry the manure is beyond the appropriation of plants. Plant food must be soluble in water, and as some substances will not disand as some substances will not dis-solve for a year or more, farmers can-not afford to lose the use of them, and should never use unrotted manure if it can be avoided.

prices for the "stocking" of a big State saloon.

Governor Tillman said to a reporter: "The new dispensary law goes into effect July 1. After that date there will not be a hecused saloon in the whole State of South Carolina. The wines, whiskies, beer, and in fact all beverages containing alcohol, will be sold only at State dispensaries by salaried and bonded officials. Drug stores are prohibited from selling any spirits except alcohol, which must be purchased from the State. The new law will make a wonderful change in the State, and I think it will flually be universally adopted as a solution of the liquor problem.

Total Number of Prizes for this County, 226. CAUTION.—No Tage will be received before January let, 1891, nor after February let, Each package containing tages must be marked plainly with Name of Sender, Town, Edd, State, and Number of Tage in each package. All charges on packages must be CAUTION.—No Tags will be received been a common the property of the package containing tags must be marked plainly with Name of Sender, Town, County, State, and Number of Tags in each puckage. All charges on puckages must be prepaid.

READ.—SPEAR HEAD prossesses more qualities of intrinsic value than any other plug tobacce produced. It is the sweetest, the toughest, the rechest. SPEAR HEAD is absolutely, positively and distinctively different in flavor from any other plug tobacco. A trial will convince the most skeptical of this fact. It is the largest seller of any similar shape and style on earth, which proves that it has caught the popular tage and pleases the people. Try it, and purticipate in the contest for prizes. See that a TRY Tag is on every lo cent place of SPEAR HEAD you buy. Send in the tags, no matter how small the quantity.

THE F. J. SORG COMPANY, MIDDLETOWN. Office.

A list of the people obtaining these prizes in this county will be published in this paper immediately after February 1st, 1894. DON'T SEND ANY TAGS BEFORE JANUARY 1, 1894.

FREE TO EVERYBODY lnest offer ever made to get a Sewing Machine or nothing. I will offer a $55 Sewing Machine o any person free of charge if I fail to prove that the STANDARD

Rotary Shuttle Sewing Machine does not do in the first place better work; sec-ond, more of the the same time; third, ensiest and with less labor; fourth, better made and finished than any vibrator shuttle machine now in use. My lealous opponents run the Standard down because they have a weaker machine; that will prove tissel. STANDARD IS THE WINNER. Come and examine the standard tefore you buy any other. Agents and dealers in Sewing Machines are especially invited.
